We are looking for a home in Montana, Colorado or anywhere really if the trade seems fair. I have a little over four acres in the most desirable area between Divide and Florissant Colorado. Beautiful views heavily treed area with national forest walking distance from the property. Some of the best fishing lakes in Colorado and Gold metal streams are close by. Great hunting all around, and wildlife walks through the property daily. The property did have a very old mobile home on it but we took it off for someone to build their own home or bring in a newer mobile home. The property has a well, septic, and electricity already on it. I built two sheds and brought in a conex shipping container 20x8 ft. for storage. There is a R.V. on the property ready to stay in while you build your home. Also a road going up to the top of the property where another level site is for a garage or barn for animals. Overall, this property has everything ready to build your dream home!
